Our Annual Spring Sale of Fine Linens Begins Thursday Morning.

(See Our Window Display.)

Thursday morning we will inaugurate our Annual Spring Linen Sale.

Summer hotels and boarding houses, as well as the private housekeeper, refurnishing for the season will find that our stock is complete in every way. Our window display will also give you an idea of how the linens will look in use.

If you ever ran a summer hotel you know just what the wear and tear on linen is. If you want something in a table cloth that will stand the hardest use and always look fresh and silvery get a Mercerized Damask.

It's a purer white than any linen that was ever bleached and looks like new every time it comes from the laundry. We have it in all widths---one 58 inches wide for 50c and the other 70 inches:--which is practically two yards---for 75c.

What a wonderful process this mercerizing is, anyway, to enable you to purchase a fabric for about half the price of a pure linen that wears as well and looks as well as the genuine pure article. At the same time we would not advise you to lay aside the pure linen entirely, as there's many an occasion and many a purpose that linen can be used for that the imitation article would not do for at all. Each one has its distinct

Will Take Up Other Matters Now That the Legislature Has Gone.

Governor Montague will no doubt feel Governor Montague will no doubt feel greatly delieved to-day after the heavy strain incident to the long siege of signing and vetoing bills. With the Legislature away, he will be in a position to take up and consider a number of matters that are awaiting attention on his desk. Numerous appointments are to be made, and some pardons and other matters of interest are pending. A large number of visitors called at the Executive Office yesterday, but His Excellency was at the mansion, where he could work in quiet, and was reading and signing and vetoing bills all day. Governor Montague has stood the long strain remarkably well considering the fact that he does all his own reading. The Governor is in robust health and is capable of a great deal of physical endurance, as was demonstrated during his long and arduous campaign for the office last year. The Governor's movements are a little unsettled at present, but he will be in the city to-day, as the Capitol Rebuilding Commission, of which he is ex-officio chairman, will meet in his office this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Assistant Secretary J. G. Hankins was busy yesterday sending out the commissions to the newly-elected members of the electoral boards for the various counties and cities of the State. A 'phone message was received from Norfolk yesterday urging that the commissions for the incubers in that city be forwarded at once, as an election is to be held there shortly, and the board will have to appoint officers for the conduct of the same.

There are but few changes in the personnel of any of the boards, most of

When the doctor himself brings on heart disease by the use of coffee it is time for ordinary people to think carefully of the effect of that beverage The testimony of Dr. O. W. Mathewson, 1354 Penn. Ave., Des Moines, Ia., is as follows: His letter is rather long and this extract is necessarily condensed.
"I am a physician of 18 years of practice. I felt the need of a stimilant and for the first five or six years of my practice used strong coffee. Eight or ten years ago I began to notice symptoms of heart disease. This seemed to be a regular organic type and year by year be-came aggravated. Dizziness, faintness, and, later, inability to walk at times. Physicans could find no marked symptoms of disease, but thought there might be of a kind that escaped observation. Finally I became a confirmed invalid and gave up practice.

Several years elapsed with the smyptoms growing worse. I was considered as marked for an early grave. It finally became impressed upon me to give up became impressed upon me to give up coffee. This I found easier to do when Postum Food Coffee was used in its place. I did this more to satisfy my friends than with any hope of benefit from such an in-curable disease as mine. ### SALOON MAN LIABLE.

Fined for Game of Cards of Which He Knew Nothing.

In the Police Court yesterday Justice Crutchfield held that a saloon owner is liable to fine and forfeiture of license even in cases where he knows nothing at all about a card gams which may have been played in his place. This ruling was in the case of Joseph Baranzon, who owns a saloon at 20 North Seventeenth Street. He was fined $100 and a recommendation made that his license be forfeited, while Junius Jenkins, who played the game and who said that Baranzono knew nothing of it, was fined $30. The case was appealed.

Direct evidence to show that while Mr.
Baranzono was at dinner some negroes came through a back door into a room in the rear of his place and started a game of "skin," was introduced and on sentence being pronounced, notice of ap-peal was given. It will be held before peal was given. It will be held before the Hustings Court that a man is not liable for something of which he knows nothing. The evidence as to Mr. Baran-zono knowing nothing of the game, was undisputed.
